

Regenerate America™ is a coalition-led campaign by farmers, ranchers, nonprofits, experts, companies, and citizens committed to rebuilding America's soil by making regenerative agriculture a centerpiece of the next Farm Bill.

OUR FARM BILL GOAL: 100 MILLION MORE ACRES UNDER REGENERATION

The following recommendations would provide 100,000+ farmers and ranchers the resources and support to transition 100 million more acres toward regenerative agriculture by increasing the adoption of key practices and programs across the country by 2030.

- 1) Utilize IRA Conservation Funding to Rebuild America's Soil
- 2) Conservation Adjustments: Support Regenerate America's Proposals for a Regenerative Transition
- 3) Research Improvements: Prioritize Soil Health Agriculture Research and Education
- 4) Credit Reforms: Pass the DEFER Act
- 5) Rebuild the Missing Middle: Advance Regional Infrastructure, Processing and Markets
- 6) Common Sense Crop Insurance: Remove Barriers and Reduce Risk

This diverse, bipartisan coalition is united around the understanding that soil is our common ground, and our common good. With more than 110 members, we represent thousands of producers from every corner of our country and all political stripes. Our members include leading regenerative producers, businesses, and land restoration experts who have already helped regenerate tens of millions of acres of farmland across America, and are poised to regenerate millions more with targeted federal support.

Regenerate America's 6 Policy Priorities:

Expand & refine education, technical service, & implementation assistance

Ensure equitable opportunity & access to all USDA programs

Improve regional access to infrastructure, processing, & markets

Increase access to healthy & regionally sourced food

Increase farmland preservation & access, including for historically underserved producers

Incentivize soil health & risk mitigation in federal crop insurance & lending
